Dantzick, November 29. N. S.

ON Sunday laſt his Majeſty confirmed the Election of the Judges choſen for the enſuing Year for the Greater and Leſſer Poland. They were admitted to an Audience on this Occaſion, and aſſured his Majeſty of their Zeal for his Service; upon which the King ſignified to them how well pleaſed he was with the Choice had been made of them, and exhorted them to a faithful Diſcharge of their Duty. The Great Treaſurer, and Vice-Chancellor, have lately had two Conferences with the Muſcovite General Gordon, in relation to the Winter Quarters for the Troops under his Command. The Diſputes ran very high on both ſides upon this Occaſion, without coming to any Agreement in the matter before them, nor is it yet known how that Affair will be adjuſted. The Diet of Pruſſia, after ſeveral Adjournments, continue now to meet every Day; and it is hoped they will in a ſhort time bring the Seſſion to an happy Concluſion. Letters of the 6th Inſtant from Moſcow adviſe, that Publick Rejoycings had been made there for the Surrender of Revel to his Czariſh Majeſty's Forces; and that they were informed by a Courier who came thither the Day before with Letters from the Czar, that Count Piper, and ſome other Swediſh Priſoners of Note, were arrived at Petersburg; that the Swedes having offered to exchange the Governor of Riga for Count Leuenhaupt, it had been refuſed, upon a Repreſentation made to the Czar of the extraordinary Abilities of that General, and the effectual Services he would be able to do his Country, in caſe he ſhould be releaſed. Theſe Letters add, that a Gentleman had been ſent by the Perſon who manageth the Correſpondences in Turkey, with Letters from the Court, and ſome Preſents to the Baſſa of Bender, where he was ſuffered to ſtay about four or five Weeks, and returned the 30th of the laſt Month to Moſcow. He reports, that the King of Sweden's Quarters were in a kind of Peninſula near the Town, where his Majeſty was building a new Houſe for his better Accommodation this Winter; that he was attended by about ſix hundred Officers and Soldiers of his own Nation, and that a Body of two thouſand Poles, and another of three thouſand Coſſacks, lay in two ſeveral Camps at ſome diſtance from Bender; the Garriſon of which Place amounted to no more than eight hundred Janiſaries, but that about ſeven thouſand Turkiſh Horſe were encamped near the Town. Theſe Troops ſuffer much for want of Proviſions. The Officers expreſs a great Veneration for the King of Sweden's Perſon, for whom the Turks wou'd willingly procure a Peace, without coming to a Rupture with the Muſcovites.

Bruſſels, December 11. N. S. We have here only the common Letters from Paris of the 8th, which continue to publiſh ſuch Particulars concerning Affairs in Spain, as are entirely to their Advantage. Several Perſons here who have Correſpondences at Bayonne, St. Sebaſtian, and other Places thereabouts, have not received any Advices from thence for this Fortnight paſt, whence it is concluded, that the French continue to intercept thoſe Letters. The Reports ſpread from France are, that his Catholick Majeſty was retiring in great haſte towards Arragon; that he had removed his Magazines of Proviſions and Ammunition out of Toledo, and had paſſed the Xarama, a River which falls into the Tagus near Aranjuez. We have no Intelligence of our own to contradict theſe Relations, and therefore muſt leave them upon the Credit which French Advices generally have.

Hague, December 12. N. S. The Prince of Savoy ſet out yeſterday from hence on his way towards Vienna. The Count of Sinzendorff, the Earl of Albemarle, and ſeveral other Perſons of Diſtinction, accompanied him as far as Amſterdam, from whence he will continue his Journey to Morrow or on Sunday. It is hoped that his Highneſs, at his arrival at Vienna, will prevail with the Imperial Court to join effectually with her Britannick Majeſty and the States General, in ſending a ſpeedy and powerful Reinforcement to Spain to ſupport the Affairs of his Catholick Majeſty. The States of Holland are aſſembled, and will no doubt take into their Conſideration the Meaſures concerted for puſhing the War with the utmoſt Vigour in all Parts, and particularly the Diſpatching the neceſſary Succours for the entire Recovery of the Kingdom of Spain. The Duke of Marlborough ſent away his Baggage this Morning to be put on Board, and Captain Sanderſon, with the Peregrine Galley, is ordered to Sail to Morrow from Rotterdam to Helvoet-ſluys, to be in a readineſs to receive his Grace, who propoſeth to leave this Place on Monday or Tueſday next. The Wind having been pretty fair for England theſe two Days paſt, we hear that Admiral Whitaker, with the Men of War and Yachts, having the Hanover Envoy, and the Britiſh Officers on Board, put to Sea yeſterday; but as the Wind is come about to the Weſt, it is likely they may be returned to Helvoet-ſluys. Mr. Chetwynd, her Britannick Majeſty's Envoy-Extraordinary to the Duke of Savoy, arrived here on Wedneſday laſt from Turin, and deſigns to go over to England with the Duke of Marlborough. We expect with impatience our Letters from England, with an Account of the opening of the Parliament, not doubting but that the Proceedings of that Aſſembly will give new Life and Vigour to all the Allies. The Letters from Paris by the laſt Poſt continuing to give the ſame Advices from Spain that they had done before, make People begin to think there is ſome Reaſon to apprehend, that it may prove true, that King Charles has thought fit to retire from Madrid. They tell us, that his Catholick Majeſty had likewiſe quitted Toledo, and was marching himſelf with a thouſand Horſe to Saragoſſa, and that the reſt of his Army followed in good Order by the way of Cuenca and Albarazin towards Arragon. The Duke of Anjou
